Communism is Denial of the Dignity of the Individual

In America this denial is exemplified in the Closed Shop, the Union Shop, the Income Tax, the O. P A., the F. E. P. C., the F. C. C. and the Pendergast machine.

Military Conscription is the ultimate goal of Communism where the dignity of the Individual disappears, making him a slave of the State.

Perverse College "Education" in Sexual Behavior

By FRED de ARYAN

Through the archives of modern science one may appreciate the fact that the "scientists" speak in terms of averages and "normals", since they admit ignorance of the knowledge of absolute right and wrong in so many things; this pertains especially to Psychology and Biology.

"Elements of Healthful Living", by Harold S. Diehl, is a college textbook used at San Diego State College in the course of health education; it may be considered typical of the books on health subjects used in colleges today, and for the most part it is constructively enlightening. But permit me to quote under the subject of nocturnal emissions, page 191 of the book:

> "Nocturnal emissions are an expression of development of the testicles and the accessory male organs of reproduction. Their occurrence is normal (bold face type is mine) and should be regarded as such by both the boy and his parents . . . . Regularity or irregularity seems to have no significance, and no effort should be made to control it."

The "significance" which the author has failed to find regarding regularity or irregularity is that emissions cease to occur when the diet is proper and the mind devoted to concentration of some sort; listless living and over-eating of the heavier foods, starches and proteins; use of drugs, spices and stimulants such as meat, dairy products, tobacco, alcohol, salt, pepper, tea, etc. — stimulates nocturnal emissions which indicate the excesses and poor judgment of the afflicted person. One who overburdens his system with excess food or who irritates it with stimulants, pays the price in degeneration and the emission is the signal.

And now I quote "The Human Organism and the World of Life", by Clarence W. Young and others, typical of textbooks in high school and college Biology, page 210:

> "Occasionally boys or men get to worrying about these dreams, believing that the loss of semen is 'robbing them of their manhood'."

The hot dog, soda pop, candy, cake, pie and ice cream lunch of so many children in public institutions today where intellect, knowledge and education of mind supposedly abound—fed them by the institution which in some cases even decries the aforementioned diet in the classroom—is very stimulating to the sexual function; the emission produced by the irritating foods truly "robs them of adulthood" since it deprives the body of its essential minerals. The case is different to some extent where no direct stimulants are used, but over-indulgence in accepted good food, accompanied by general listlessness, will cause emissions of the surplus of food elements in the system. Thus nocturnal emissions may be caused in one of two ways, or a combination of the two, both of which are degenerating to the body.

Now I quote further the latter book, page 211:

> "Traditionally, it (self-induced stimulation of sex-organs) has been called masturbation, but since this designation implies a false notion of the harmfulness of the practice, we shall use the more scientific term, 'auto-erotism'. In the past, this practice has been looked upon with abhorrence, and young people have been assured that it is the cause of everything from insanity to shifty eyes and cold, clammy hands. All reliable authorities now hold that auto-erotism is of no harm to anyone unless he worries about it. . . . Not only does the young person fear its consequences, but he is likely to get the idea that he is lacking in moral character and will power. However, when ninety percent of men and seventy-five percent of women admit in confidential questionnaires that they have practiced auto-erotism—and the likelihood is that most of the others just won't admit it—the 'victim' of this habit can at least console himself that his will power and moral character are no worse than those of the rest of the human race.

The rest are perverts and I am too; oh, how consoling!

> "When the individual ceases to worry about auto-erotism, it tends to lose any emotional interest for him, and he may simply outgrow it. The recommended attitude is to exercise as much self-control as possible and not to worry about lapses."

Why recommend an attitude of self-control if masturbation is harmless? A logical person doubts the reasoning of another who recommends self-control in a harmless habit.

And on top of this, the former book by Diehl, used in Health Education, p. 193, states:

> "It is important to realize, however, that masturbation is not a desirable or adequate form of sex expression. In youth there is always a tendency to excess which may lead to the expenditure of energy on masturbation during the years that nature needs all her resources for building manhood and womanhood."

A few paragraphs preceding this one in the book, Diehl wrote:

> "It is important, therefore, that adolescent boys learn that masturbation is practically universal, and that, as far as we know, it is a harmless practice."

After saying that as far as they knew, it was harmless, he went on to say that he thought it was harmless when indulged in to excess—and fails to define excess. Though attempting to be honest, Diehl betrays his own lack of intelligence by contradicting himself. What sort of confidence does that inspire in youth?

Don't worry about it; the harm is in the worry. It is harmless. You are a growing boy; the body needs those elements; don't be excessive.

What's an excess? Once a month, once a week, or after every meal? When you are grown, the body must repair its tissues anyway. Are you a manual laborer or a pencil pusher? Do you have a lingering, tiring disorder? Are you recovering from sickness?

The scientists are not even scientific when they have failed to run a survey among people who have not masturbated, or who do not. And I mean those, of course, who would be considered scientifically normal in all other respects and not inmates of institutions in straight jackets or so mentally and sexually inert as to be incapable of conceiving sexual pleasures.

In attempting to be "liberal and honest", the "scientists" read in popular institutions of today, only sustain the confusion they imagine they are eliminating. Reproductive fluids are all that their name implies; to use them otherwise is obviously misuse and waste.

Editor's Note: The sex-fluids are the quintessence, the "savings" of the body for improvement and Regeneration. Masturbation and waste thereof compares to the waste of funds "like drunken sailors". They always are broke and must slave anew.

The sexual "savings" are used in organic economy to reflect spiritual intelligence. The very fact of the common habit of wasting this substance explains why humanity is not progressing spiritually but remains beastly savages. Read how the I. Q. in America continues to fall.

Americans Becoming Race of Morons, Survey Declares

Dear Kosti:

I've just been reading the article "World Menace of Mongrelism" in the June 30th number of THE BROOM. Yesterday as I read the enclosed clipping it seemed so clear to me that all this crossing in the human color lines is contributing greatly to this condition of the retrograding of the American people. There is not the least hatred in my heart for any of the races because they are the formation of the Creator, but, being each distinctly marked each from the other there can be no doubt that it is our business to keep the lines of demarkation pure. We certainly have no business fooling around with the destinies of the peoples who are placed here for some distinct purpose, have we?

Love to you all, HELEN

* * * *

WASHINGTON, — The intelligence of the American people probably is declining at a rate of two or three I. Q. points a year. In a few generations this will result in a race of morons.

These are the conclusions of the Population Reference Bureau in the nation's capitol, following reports of a similar survey conducted by a British royal commission which concluded that in 50 years the number of students in the United Kingdom will be halved and the number of feeble-minded almost doubled.

The Population Bureau bases its findings on the same type of data used by Cyril Burt, head of the British commission—showings on intelligence tests and the relative sizes of families according to educational status of the parents.

Too Many "D. P.s" in America

Dear Mr. de Aryan:

THE STAKE IS AMERICA'S FUTURE — and not the future of "Displaced Persons".

During a congressional hearing now held before the House Judiciary Subcommittee on Immigration (which had been monopolized and allegedly illegally handled for many years—and especially during the war—by former New York Congressman Samuel Dickstein, now a New York State Supreme Court Judge, in spite of having reputedly no law practice), U. S. Representative Ed. Gossett (D-Texas) pointed out during the discussion of the Stratton-Mason bill to admit four hundred thousand "displaced persons" to the U. S. during the next four years, that > "we are already compelled to "absorb quite enough native poison" as a result of Congress having previously arranged to admit some one hundred thousand Puerto Ricans to the U. S. every year" and in his argument against the proposed admitting of large numbers of D. P.s from Mediterranean or Eastern European countries, the Congressman castigated the attitude taken on this subject by the "Daily Worker" and by the newspaper "PM" — incidentally referring to New York City as being "not an English-speaking place".

Of course, the best stock among American citizens residing South of the Potomac is undoubtedly of Anglo-Saxon stock; and such people would naturally like to see this country remain Nordic. They feel very strongly against the admitting into this country of further large numbers of immigrants who come chiefly from Eastern and Southeastern European countries; and who would absorb the quotas established by Congress for immigrants from Central, West or North Europe.

This attitude, coupled with their attitude toward Negro peoples, causes Southerners to see trouble ahead for the United States.

From their own experience they know more about "melting pot results" than do such sycophantic sheets as the "Daily Worker" and the "PM" who cannot do enough in the way of advocating race-mixture. Hence the feeling of Southerners about New York City can be quite easily understood.

But why do Westerners speak so derisively of our great and intelligent cosmopolitan center?

The reason which occurs to me is that this derogatory attitude is a result of the international and communist propaganda put forward not alone by such papers as "Daily Worker" and "PM", but also by New York foreign language papers — and principally by those printed in Hebraic letters—which are closed to inspection by American readers—although they greatly influence the ideology of those large masses of recent New Yorkers who do understand these Hebraic hieroglyphs.

The ideology of some of these foreign language papers is quite peculiar, to express it mildly. As an example I cite an alleged reproduction of an allegedly authentic hundred-year-old print depicting the first American steamer "Washington" with the flag of the Star of David flying on the prow and with the six-cornered Jewish star superimposed on the American flag flying aft.

The foreign language paper's intent of this blatant falsification of history—and desecration of the American flag—must have been to cause their readers to believe, and subsequently assert to their friends, that the first American steamer "Washington" crossed the ocean in 1847, a hundred years ago, under the Jewish flag.

It is this foreign ideology, now so frequently played up by such New York papers, which astonish visitors to New York, and which causes such characterization of New York as voiced by Congressman Gossett.

It may be of interest to know that my request for a correction of this distortion of American history brought neither reply nor correction.

Very truly yours,

Was Dora's Penance Involuntary Servitude?

By C. LEON de ARYAN

Hurrah! San Diego is having a nationwide interesting scandal trial in federal district court. Uusually, this court is almost deserted. The judges come from Los Angeles and bring their law clerks, secretaries, bailiffs and even special prosecutors with them. Quite an additional expense foisted on the taxpayers because San Diego is not supposed to rate a resident federal court. But now? Quien sabe? We, too, have the scandal sheets of the nation and the radio mongers of filthy news direct their attention to this city and can bask for a month, daily, in the procedure here.

Of course, I was interested to know whether such a thing as keeping a Negro girl in slavery is possible. I know that Uncle Sam keeps our young men in involuntary servitude, even killed them, at Pearl Harbor, to have a good excuse for declaring war, by conspiracy of the Commander-in-Chief and his Chief of Staff, but that a New England couple could get away with it, that is NEWS, News, news, delighting the heart of a filthy Winchell, even.

And, as I listened to testimony in court, it strikes me that along parallel lines the Pope is doing a big business in involuntary servitude, if one observes how many nuns and monks work without remuneration, and many, as in the case of Miss Dora L. Jones, 57, Negro housemaid of the defendants Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wesley Ingalls, have taken the veil as a matter of penance for their sins. For, if involuntary servitude, as applied in Dora's case, is a crime, certainly thousands of nuns are equally exploited.

I have always admired the sagacity and genius of old man Abraham R. Sauer as he edited the HERALD. He could walk right into the heart of a situation and then outline it with words that literarily painted the picture colorfully and uninhibited, shattering all the halo surrounding hoary custom and exposing the meat of the hard nuts he undertook to crack for the benefit of the community. It was nothing short of genius, though some people call it luck. And as luck willed it, I had a hunch to spend an hour in court and listen, exactly when I had an hour to spare, having made up the forms and read the page proofs of the previous edition of THE BROOM.

But when I entered the court room, noting that every chair at the press table was filled, hence took a chair inside the railing reserved for the prosecution attorneys, the FBI and its witnesses, three of them were empty, U. S.

Marshal Ray Wahlgren called me out and told me I could not sit there, because—. Now that's a hell of a way to keep a reporter from his meat. But Arkle Jack St. Clair, bailiff and court crier for Judge Jacob Weinberger, noticed it, came out into the corridor and persuaded the marshal to relax the rule since it is customary to give the press leeway, even when, or especially when hysteria prevails, as had happened this time when 300 Negro spectators had to be dispersed by the police because there was no seating capacity for all in the court room. I have attended hundreds of trials in every type of court in the land, municipal, state and federal and found the freemasonry between court attendants and the press to work quite pleasantly and even judges saw to it that, due to my partial deafness, rules were relaxed to give me an advantageous position to hear the proceedings.

And so my hunch worked out. Police Sgt. William G. Hoyt of Berkeley took the stand.

U. S. Atty. Ernest A. Tolin, adroitly drew out such testimony as would incriminate the defendants, but Clifford Fitzgerald, for the defense, finally took over the witness and under cross-examination, brought out facts which balance all evidence in the fine needle point of discrimination where individual concepts of what is right and wrong, of the individual jurors (3 women and 9 men, with 2 male alternates) will have to decide the issue. The sum total of the story elicited from Hoyt is as follows:

Helen Roberts, daughter of the Ingalls, wife of Dr. Richard Roberts, Berkeley oil company chemist, felt outraged at the way Dora had been left to sleep outside the hotel in Berkeley in a large Packard limousine, last Oct. 11, while the Ingalls had travelled cross-country to finally wind up in Coronado. Helen called the police to liberate Dora. The two Ingalls, Richard and Helen Roberts, with Dora and Sgt. Hoyt, went to the police station to have it out.

Hoyt was informed that 40 years ago Dora had misconducted herself with Elizabeth Ingalls' first husband, Walter Harmon, of Washington, D. C., and that to keep the matter quiet, Elizabeth had taken Dora under her wing in place of charging her with indulgence in pervert acts and having her arrested and committed. Thus the 40 years' "protegee" relationship, in the spirit of doing penance, started between Dora and Elizabeth, where Dora did all the housework, even shovelled snow, etc., poorly clad, and badly housed, while the Ingalls had a well-furnished 12-room mansion, which Dora managed to keep clean for them. Yet, aside from room and board, Dora never received wages.

After listening to everybody, the two women Helen and Elizabeth, excited and hysterically, started making charges against one another. Hoyt took Dora into another room, closed the door and informed her that whatever misconduct had taken place between her and Harmon had been expiated through the statute of limitations. That Dora was free to choose what she wanted to do without having to fear duress. That any police station in California would protect her. Yet, Hoyt stated, after thus informing Dora of her rights, she chose to ignore the offers of Helen and decided to go with the Ingalls to Coronado, where later the Dept. of Justice, on charges instigated by the Roberts, had the Ingalls arrested and the present case arose.

So-o-o, if Elizabeth was fearful of the gossip about Dora and Harmon, well, what's the use? It got aired now from coast to coast. And if the Ingalls had saved any money by not paying Dora wages for 40 years, they are now paying it out through the nose in costs of litigation, etc. But the remarkable thing is: Hoyt opened the gate of the canary bird's cage, told Dora she could leave, yet Dora refused until the FBI forcibly took her away and placed her in the home of colored hosts in San Diego. Naturally, the Negro colony here is storming the court and wants to hear the story.

Good vote bait for the new deal administration, — — is it? . . . only what IS SLAVERY?

Aren't you a slave when you must divvy up your earnings with Uncle Sam to support European, African and Asiatic regimes in power that the oil lands of east Asia may be safe for the Anglo-American combine?

MAID IN 'SLAVE CASE' TELLS OF 'ORIGINAL SIN'

Questioned by Assist. U. S. Atty Betty Marshall Graydon, Dora Jones testified she was born in Athens, Ala., attended Trinity School there where Elizabeth Kimball was a teacher. At the age of 15 Elizabeth sent her money from Washington, D. C. where she had become Mrs. Walter Harmon and was expecting a baby, Ruth, now Mrs. Ruth Castendyk. Dora liked her new home, where she had a lovely room. Her salary for maid work was $8 a week, $4 were deducted to pay for her train fare from Athens to Washington.

Shortly after Ruth was born Mrs. Harmon and baby went to New Hampshire, leaving Dora with Mr. Harmon, of whom she become pregnant in 1913. Upon her return Mrs. Harmon decided against the advice of the family physician who wanted to send the colored girl home to Alabama to have her baby, because she did not want Ruth to have a colored half-brother, so an abortion was performed even though Dora wanted to give birth to the baby. Mrs. Harmon became reconciled to her husband thereafter till in 1918 Capt. Ingalls called on them in his naval uniform. Shortly Mrs. Harmon divorced her husband and married Ingalls. They moved to Boston.

Dora's wages became $6 a week, she never got the money but was told that it was on deposit for her at the bank. Mrs. Ingalls refused to let her go to church or to movies, saying that an adulteress and murderess of her baby, must not contaminate decent people. The two women had fist fights regularly every two weeks, faces scratched, etc. and as a result Mrs. Ingalls lost a baby during pregnancy, so she told Dora: "Now you have the deaths of two babies on your hands, and when you go to hell there would be two little babies, one yours and one mine—crying at you for what you have done."

To atone for her "crimes" Dora kept on working for the Ingalls until Helen Roberts, daughter of the Ingalls, took a hand in the matter and had the federal authorities remove Dora and indict the Ingalls on the present slavery charges.

PELLY LOSES HABEAS CORPUS APPEAL

WASHINGTON,— The United States Court of Appeals upheld a lower court order dismissing the war time mass sedition case and reprimanded the justice department for "lack of diligence" in prosecuting the case.

The Appeals court also upheld the District court in dismissing a petition for a writ of habeas corpus by William Dudley Pelley, one of the original defendants, who now is serving a 15 year term in federal penitentiary at Terre Haute, Ind., for sedition law violation.

FAITH HEALER, PATIENT IN SECLUSION MONTH

PALM SPRINGS,— Near the end of his 30 days in seclusion, Avak Hagopian, young Armenian self-described faith healer, remained in his undisclosed mountain retreat along with Vaughn Arakelian, whom he is attempting to cure of epilepsy.

The bearded Armenian and Arakelian left June 9, and no word has been received from them since. Arakelian is the 37-year-old son of Krikor Arakelian, wealthy vintner who brought Avak here. There is no one home at the Arakelian mansion and Vaughn's father is believed to be with him.

"Christian Front" Meeting in N. Y.

QUEENS VILLAGE, N. Y. CITY, (Special),— Despite frantic pleas by various Red and left-wing organizations that the advertised outdoor meeting of the one-man "Christian Front" should be suppressed by the police, the affair came off as scheduled on Saturday night, June 28.

But the police were there in large numbers and they were kept busy in suppressing hecklers, who seemed to outnumber sympathizers, and some of the disturbers were arrested and hauled off to jail.

Daniel Kurts, who presided at the October, 1945, meeting, when the Jewish War Veteran commander Ginsburg arrested three Christians and had them imprisoned for "unlawful assembly", was again the chairman of the meeting, which was held at 217th St;., and Jamaica Avenue.

Mr. Kurts, having no one to share the platform with him, spoke for three hours, along the usual nationalist and anti-Newdeal lines. He praised General MacArthur as the one outstanding genius of the late war and as an administrator who was putting Japan back on its feet, as compared with the debacle in Germany, where a great Christian people are being destroyed.

He wanted MacArthur for our next President.

Mr. Kurts, in private life is an auto mechanic, is a patriotic citizen, fearless and civic-minded, although at times criticised for the daring and originality of his methods.

The Letter Kills the Spirit

A CHAT WITH FREDRIC

"Daddy, I happened to get in touch with a vegetarian girl in Germany. I have been sending food packages and wrote her my ideas about living. Just now I received an answer. It puzzles me. She states: ' . . . there are so very many people who are not able to live like a Mazdaznan because they are too poor . . . ' What does she mean?"

"I think you had better read the whole letter to me first."

"Allright, her name is Gisela and she writes from Kassel. 'Dear friend! I thank you very much for your letter. You are so very kind to alleviate our life in Germany. That is my greatest event in my young life that so many people from abroad are shaking hands with us and are coming to help the blamed country. But we can do nothing else than say: "Thank you", and then give your love to the others. I was so much pleased to read a German letter and to read this sentence: "Die Dummheit ist froehlich". Please, write always a little German in your letter and I shall try to learn a better English.

" 'You have asked me if I were a Mazdaznan. I am not a Mazdaznan but a Quaker's daughter. We have some books written by Mazdaznan and we have only accepted the vegetarian life from it. But during the war we had to break our principles sometimes. My father alone refused meat every time.

" 'I agree with you when you are saying: "I am not happy in the Mazdaznan Church", although I don't fully know their point of view. But there are so very many people who are not able to live like a Mazdaznan because they are too poor. I think we must have a plain PURE FAITH in God's Love.

" 'You are living in a beautiful country. My aunt has told us so much of it. When she sends a package she always adds something which has grown in your California sun. In Germany the winter is always reigning with coldness and dirty snow, but I shall send you something of my sun with this letter, of my sun of joy. In thankfulness!' And she signs her name."

"Well, Fred. The child judged Mazdaznan by what she saw and she is right from that angle. The morons who followed Dr. Hanish, and for that matter yet ape him today and parrot 'the master said this and the master did that', without having any intelligence of their own to know the meaning of his words and actions, impressed Gisela, as well as many other Germans, and I noticed this selfsame thing here, too;—hence, Mazdaznan to them is a long succession of rituals, starting in the morning, all thru the day. They have no idea what it is all about and only rich people could devote the day to a lot of orthodox ritualism and neglect their functions of providers and useful citizenship."

"But, daddy, I did not notice this in your life."

"No. But you noticed that I and you are not acceptable to the orthodox Mazdaznans at the Temple in Los Angeles. And that's the point Gisela brings out. There is where Dr. Hanish failed miserably in his mission and that's why he died heart-broken and sick of the very outfit around him."

"But the crowd in Los Angeles doesn't seem to be rich, aside from the estate Dr. Hanish left in care of Bachman, daddy."

"No, they aren't and did you notice that they all cowtow to Bachman's financial, hence controlling position? That's what Gisela noted right in Germany."

"How did this come about? You have never been rich, yet from my observation you are about the only one I found who lives up to the principle, fearlessly and recklessly of consequences. The rest are chiefly interested in personal wellbeing. I thought Dr. Hanish was a pioneer for individual liberty, espousing principle above all other considerations."

"Dr. Hanish had a much harder job than we have, Fred. Materialism was even more prevalent; stupidity so dominant and religious superstition so rabid, he had to break the sod. We are now building upon the foundations he laid. We have it much easier. And you children have even greater advantages than I had because you are building on my work."

"But why did you and Dr. Hanish not get along better so that now you could carry on the work where he left off?"

"I am as independent as you are, Fred. You are ahead of me in some things and I have sense enough to see it and watch you with interest and sympathy, even though you excel me. My work and Dr. Hanish' differs a lot. He came to teach the fundamentals of applying BREATH to the organism to develop it that it may better react and respond to spiritual impulses. His chief interest was to bring home to us the processes of organic evolution. So he insisted in putting his pupils thru the paces of posture, exercises which are calisthenics, s o n g s and prayers to go with it, and then meatless diet. But from my own experience, practically all his pupils were morons of the middle ages; bourgeois, rutted in mental straight-jackets. Very few caught on to the principle of evolution he demonstrated. So all they did is sing the songs, rehash the prayers, go thru the ritual without catching on that it all was nothing but physical and mental exercises to develop the body cells to OBEY THE DIVINE IMPULSES of life and thus emancipate themselves from animal habits."

"They made the exercises the norm, instead of realizing that these were only cultivating means of the body?"

"Yes, Fred. There is not one in the whole crowd I ever met who caught on to the urgency of placing the divine above all personal considerations. To them Mazdaznan was and is a means of personal health, wealth, position, material and animal advantages in life. And that is the fault of Dr. Hanish. He was so engrossed in their physical development, he failed to emphasize the spiritual purpose effectively enough. Thus they made a fetish of the ritual, the body, of wealth itself and that is the ruin of the Temple gang. Bachman and Sorge are so concerned for their own hides and financial standing, they eat crow."

"I noticed, Henry and Emanuel always come to church in elegant white dress suits with diamond studded pins in their silk neckties, gold chains around the neck and display of opulence."

"Of course, Fred, we are to be successful even in material wealth, but not at the expense of spiritual principle. But the morons cannot fathom principle hence they worship the outward tokens of wealth and success. That's what Gisela noted. Wealth to us must come as a result of service well performed. Not as an end in itself. When Dr. Hanish urged me to first make money as an engineer and then use it to teach Mazdaznan, I dropped him then and there. If Mazdaznan cannot support itself, there is something rotten. Jesus instructed us to take no thought of tomorrow, enter HIS service in the name of the Father, and the Service will take care of our earthly needs. The very measure of our faithful performance is the results we get. If we awaken people to the superiority of good will in obedience to God and collaboration with one another, naturally, we are not going to suffer want. You would never suffer want as long as I have something, neither would I as long as those whom I awakened to the superiority of Love over greed, in daily relationship, reap the harvest thereof."

"Then, to be a Madaznan one does not have to be rich?"

"Oh no, Fred. Gisela is right. To be a Mazdaznan you have to be rich, but to be a Zaota or worshipper of Mazda, you must not make riches your goal. It comes naturally as you do your work well. That's the difference between Mazdaznan and Mazda worship. And this is the test. That's why I taught you boys to place principle above personal considerations. The Mazdaznans don't. They worship material advantages and sacrifice principle to it. They don't dare to be conscientious objectors against war service in any line and challenge the Devil himself with the whole American Legion and patriotic murder-worshippers. But, we as Zaotas are prompted by our fiery Love of God to obey only HIM and command respect."

With every cell in its perfect position, with every cell fed perfectly, with every cell kept as clean as possible, we will have youth, and perfect health indefinitely.

Our Declaration of Independence

Every year the American people give lip-service to the Declaration of Independence from England. This is the 172nd time.

The Thought of Freedom is inborn in every white man and woman. It is the promise of the Millenium, the sense of Heaven, the glimpse of Divine Life which is the birthright of the Zend-Aryan race. Few are aware of what it really is.

George Washington and the Founders imagined that freedom and individual sovereignity can be gained on the battlefield. The General believed in it so firmly he prayed for instructions in battle and won. Yet he lost. Freedom is the divine quality of self-determination. And only the divinely conscious soul is ready to enact it, since on earth We have to enact and keep freedom. Thus, Washington won the battle against England, yet lost.

Before the signatures on the new Constitution and the Declaration of Independence were dry, sly schemers had already succeeded to vitiate the promises contained therein. The Tory system of landownership with its exploitation of tenants; the usury system of banking and the totalitarian imposition of taxes; enslaved the new nation from the cradle. Unwittingly the Founders paid tribute and tithed the Devil in an exchange for what they imagined to be freedom and independence. They could not gain heaven on earth for the new nation by force, despite victory. The enemy was not primarily the English ruler but the savage concept of the colonists themselves.

Having tithed the Devil on the battlefields, rivalry continued its evil work and soon the nation was embroiled in civil war between the states. While Lincoln won on the battlefield, he lost the South. Totalitarian, burocratic, carpetbag ruination of the defeated Confederation made progress towards the Millenium of freedom and individual rights impossible. The 4th of July became more of a farce than ever.

Slowly the nation recovered from the wounds of the Lincoln wars, having again tithed the Devil and his lust to kill; yet the debts incurred, the enmity between the Yankees and the South, destroyed the Thought of Liberty and human rights. Feudal taxation, of Mongolian origin, impoverished the workers, the farmers, the small businessmen and enriched the land speculators and bankers. Their power became so great they managed to embroil the nation into war with Spain, where victory again tithed the Devil, brought in possessions in the Pacific and Atlantic which served as a further stepping stone to World Wars I and II. Conscription wiped out the last vestige of civilian sovereignty and the Wall streeters own the very bodies of every man, woman and child.

During all this time the churches, run by ignorant zealots or aggressive racketeers and spellbinders, aligned themselves with Wall street and "patriotism" of tithing the Devil. The imperishable voice in the hearts of individuals that never ceased to whisper of the reign of God on earth, where men are His children and are free to determine their own course, succeeded to keep the hope and longing for a government that nurtures individual initiative; yet the Devil's tithes produced results whereby billions were spent for destruction while the millions in the nation, one third remained ill-fed, ill-clad and ill-housed.

And again, the 4th of July came and went. Russia, which at one time wanted to do away with War and Feudalism, found itself invaded by the Allies who forced a military government of Trotsky upon the new Republic. The pressure continued by the Allies. They refused to recognize the new regime until all hope of peaceful development in Russia was liquidated and a ruthless regime of oppression and dictatorship under Stalin supplanted the idealism of the Revolution. Thus, the Devil's tithe produced a new world wide enemy.

And now, again, we are confronted with choosing our next path. Are we ever going to tithe God? Will we spend billions for more armaments, meddling in other people's affairs while exploiting our own people?

Why do you not spend as much effort to bring sacrifices to God as you sacrifice to the Devil and his lust of rule and ruin? If it is Freedom you want, why buy regulation, burocracy, militarism? Why don't you tithe regularly for American rights under our Constitution? Why don't you tithe for Christ and oppose war?

REASON FOR GAS SHORTAGE

Two-fisted Senator Owen Brewster of Maine smells a rat regarding the midwest oil shortage.

Brewster, who is one of the keenest probers in the Senate and inherited Harry Truman's old committee, has been conducting a thorough investigation of the Arabian oil situation and suspects that the so-called oil shortage, which has prompted some oil companies to reinstate gasoline rationing, is purely a fake.

Brewster has reason to believe that the big oil companies have whipped up the oil shortage story solely for the purpose of convincing Americans that oil must be imported from the Middle East. The big oil companies, he finds, plan to bring in 500,000 tons of Arabian oil this summer, just to convince the American public of the urgency for spending hundreds of millions of dollars to protect American oil interests in the Middle East.—Drew Pearson.

Sen. Taft Opposes Conscription

WASHINGTON,— Senator Robert A . Taft, lessened prospects for the enactment of universal military training legislation at this session of Congress.

In an interview, the Republican leader denounced the proposal as un-American, wasteful and obsolete, and declared he would "fight it to the bitter end".

In his interview, Mr. Taft vigorously attacked every major argument put forward by advocates in support of universal military training. He held the proposal would not improve either the morals, discipline or health of American youth, and that it was not necessary to develop a military man-power reserve.

"Militarism has always led to war and not to peace," Mr. Taft said. "Conscription was no insurance of victory in France, Germany or Italy. This proposal is the same military set-up which we went to war to abolish in Germany and Japan. Whether we become a militaristic and totalitarian country depends more on this measure than any other.

"It affects every family. It subjects American youth to the complete domination of the Government during their most formative period. We have no greater obligation to the men who fought in Europe and the Pacific than to keep our country one in which the individual shall be free to think and be master of his own soul, and where the people shall be free to govern their own government."

As a possible substitute for military training, Mr. Taft suggested a volunteer summer training program for 200,000 boys.

"This is merely an idea," Mr. Taft explained, "but I think there is sound merit in it. However, I confidently predict that the Army will criticize and oppose it because it is determined to have conscription. The militarists insist on conscription and are doing all in their power to put it over.

Propaganda Assailed

"The Army wants boys for twelve months consecutively because it wants to change their habits of thought, to make them soldiers, if you please, for the rest of their lives. Nothing less will do. We are indeed bankrupt of ideas if we cannot provide a method by which necessary military forces and reserves are provided by an American voluntary system."

Mr. Taft also assailed what he described as underhanded and propaganda activities by military leaders to put through the training bill.

"Government propaganda is bad enough when it is in the open," he said, "but it is inexcusable when secret. Certain Government elements have been trying to put over conscription since early in 1945. Conscription is bad enough in war time; in peace it is intolerable."

Corrupt Post Office Solicitor

Walter Winchell announced that $225,000 came in response to his appeal over the air at $1 a gamble for the free lot and home ANYWHERE in the U. S. A. if accompanied by a slogan for the Damon Runyon Cancer research fund. The lottery is a fraud and swindle. The money of the cancer research fund is wasted in bolstering up the domination of the Medical Racket is a ruination of GOOD SENSE and natural healing. The cause of cancer is well known, except to the medical racketeers who don't want to PREVENT CANCER.

Yet, while such a lottery is being played the U. S. Post Office Solicitor closes his eyes to it, while that scoundrel persecutes DRUGLESS and Naturopathic remedies, declaring their sellers to be FRAUDS, because the American Medical Association wants all natural remedies eliminated.

The U. S. Post Office Solicitor is another form of Thought Police which claims that unless Natural remedies bring a good rake-off to the Medical Trust as a by-product, they must not be sold as REMEDIES by laymen.

It goes to show how dangerous it is to give a monopoly to anyone, even the U. S. Post Office. The Solicitor is the CZAR Almighty who decides health matter!

WHO THE HELL IS HE to say that herbal remedies are NOT remedies, but a fraud because that Jew Fishbein gets no rake-off from their sale?

Of the 13,000 conscientious objectors jailed in the United States, 1,000 remain in prison. President Truman's Board apparently has no intention of granting general amnesty, although urged by many to do so; but instead is processing individual cases. It is, indeed, shocking that, while amnesty has been granted to millions of political prisoners abroad, any conscientious objectors should still be in prison in this country.

Federal City

Welcome Hawaii, Good-bye Uncle Sam ! . . . . "DPs" and "FEPC"

By WASHINGTON ADAMS

WASHINGTON, July 4 (Special) — Only the Senate now stands between our country and what may mean the end of our Republic—the admission of the first alien mongrel Oriental Senators into the council of our U. S. Senate (via the accession of Hawaii as the 49th State).

Less than one-half of the House membership, 196, voted this terrible thing upon the uninformed and unsuspecting American people. There were 133 patriots (mostly Democrats) who voted against it, while 101—enough to kill it did not vote.

They forgot the warning of the great American sage, Nicholas Muray Butler—ex-president of Columbia university and former G. O. P. vice-presidential nominee—who said that the admission of an alien people, living far outside Continental United States, would be the first break in the solidarity of our people and would probably be the beginning of the end of America as we have always known it.

High statesmanship in the Senate may yet evolve a far-better plan of dominion status for Hawaii, rather than to admit its Chinese and Japanese Senators as equal legislators and permanent disturbing factors in our national life.

Canada, although Anglo-Saxon like the mother country, never sought and was never invited to send a delegation to the British parliament. Each country retained the right to mind its own business and not to interfere in the home affairs of the other.

The ancient Greeks forbade, on penalty of death, a man of alien blood from entering their Senate.

The Congressional Record of June 30 reveals the pathetic ignorance of the science of government, of ethnology, of the American way of life, upon the part of those who spoke for admitting Hawaii. Congressman Coudert introduced the warning words of Columbia's Mr. Butler and was a lone but brilliant G. O. P. light in opposing the measure. (He led the fight in New York against the infamous red "FEPC").

Admit Hawaii and you establish it as an underground station inflow of Mongolians to the United States, absolutely transforming the racial character of this nation.

Scientists believe that there is the greatest danger imaginable that some day the Asiatics will have overrun the United States and settled it to the mid-continental divide; that the stupid policies now in vogue will result in the Negroes holding complete possesson of what is now the Southern and Mason-Dixon border States, with the Northeastern U. S. the dark Negroid "melting-pot" pictured by Israel Zangwill. The American WHITE MAN WILL HAVE ALLOWED HIMSELF TO BE DRIVEN OUT, KILLED OR ABSORBED !

Representatives Poulson, Engel and other eccentrics from California pointed out (page 8093) how in Hawaii "RACE EQUALITY IS TAKEN FOR GRANTED . . . having been derived from the 'TOLERANT' Hawaiian people."

That's right—the poor old Hawaiians were so tolerant that they permitted themselves to be crowded out, so that in 1930 census they numbered but 3.7 percent of the population, the ratios being as follows:

49.7 Mongolian, 17.7 Malay, 15.2 Caucasian, 13.7 Hybrid, 3.7 Hawaiian.

Give them independent Statehood, but with the power of their Japanese and Chinese Senators to harass Americans in Washington, and the whites will move out or be absorbed.

Not one pro-Hawaiian congressman raised one important question—"DO WE NEED THE ASSISTANCE OF THE HAWAIIAN CHINESE AND JAPANESE SENATORS TO HELP US RUN OUR NATION?" He could not answer "Yes".

These Senators will be "racialists" first, just as our American Negroes are Negroes first and Americans second. Read any big Negro weekly, and you will see that they put their color first in news of interest all over the world. Many of them, like Paul Robeson, love Africa better than America!

LEHMAN and all those who want the 400,000 "DPs" admitted are in favor of the infamous "FEPC", which would compel their employment in America, over native Americans!

Dear Mr. de Aryan:

I borrowed a copy of THE BROOM from a friend and you certainly do speak the truth. I think it is wonderful that we do have a few men like you who are trying to do some good for our country. Only through men like you can we hope to wipe out this Communist and Jewish menace. I would like to subscribe to THE BROOM and whatever other literature you publish.

We are almost neighbors and if you should happen to come around this way please stop by to see me as you are more than welcomed in my home. Please send me subscription price. If you should have some back copies of THE BROOM please send them. I remain a sincere friend to your cause and work.

Does Truman Favor Making America A Negroid Nation ?

First President to Demand "Social Equality" and to Speak to "N.A.A.C.P."

WASHINGTON, July 2 (Special) — White Washingtonians gasped at the odd speech made by President Truman Sunday afternoon before the great Negro organization, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

They asked—"Is Truman our greatest DEMAGOGUE, or is he, the son of a Confederate soldier, sincere in his advocay of COMPULSORY SOCIAL EQUALITY?"

This is the question on many lips, following Truman's strange talk to the Negroes of America via all radio networks. No other President in our history ever made such a speech. It appeared to be a complete sell-out to the Negroes.

He demnded "rights" for the Negroes not mentioned in the Constitution and he turned half of his radio time over to that pestiferous outfit known as the "NAACP", allowing its white-skinned secretary to spout his "racial, political and SOCIAL EQUALITY" ideas for 12 MINUTES while introducing President Truman's talk of 11 MINUTES.

The late Thomas Dixon once said of Secretary Walter White's propaganda society, the NAACP, that it was as "RED AS THE FLAG OF THE SOCIALIST PARTY."

Among its top members are Phillips Randolph, Langston Hughes, Paul Robeson, and Richard Wright—all of them left-wingers of no uncertain color. Another is Dr. W. E. Dubois, the almost-white Afro-American editor and publicist, who was quoted last week by the "N. Y. TIMES" as stating that "socialism is the hope of the world."

Was it an all-out effort to capture the entire Negro vote by promising, for the first time in American history, to put the power of the executive department back of ALL the EQUALITY DEMANDS—political and SOCIAL—being made every week by every Negro weekly in the land?

He plainly implied his backing for the infamous red proposal, the national "FEPC"— to force it on a State like great California, which TURNED IT DOWN BY A MILLION MAJORITY last November, the first and only State where white people were given a chance to vote upon it.

One wonders just who wrote Truman's Anti-White, Pro-Negro speech. It had at least one odd contradiction: While quoting the Bill of Rights as having been framed "to PROTECT THE CITIZEN against any possible TYRANNICAL act by the government in this country," it insults that Bill of Rights by asking, without Constitutional authority, for "NEW CONCEPTS (socialist?) of civil rights" to include the tyranny of government to enforce an equality that, in fact, does not exist.

Indeed, he pictured the government as being something outside of and above the people, whose duty no longer was to protect the people against tyranny, but to befriend the people in their rights to EQUALITY.

White threatened the 17 old-South States with a vigorous campaign to break down every law to protect the purity of the white race as far as possible, such as those for separate schools, railroad and hotel accomodations and against intermarriage.

Truman followed and appeared to endorse the Red Negroes' plan. He presented some plans for a socialist society, as follows:

"The right to a worthwhile job." No man has a "right" to any job for which he is not fitted or to which the employer does not wish him. To compel an employer to hire someone he does not want is TYRANNY.

"The right to a decent home." This right has always existed here, limited to the ability of the person to acquire and create the "decent" home.

He spoke at the memorial to Lincoln, whose memory he praised, but he did not mention that Lincoln was opposed to all of his "equality" nonsense and favored colonizing the Negro in Africa and Central America.

Congress should censure Truman for that speech and request his resignation. He is doing America a great DISSERVICE.

Relief for German P. O. W.s

Dear Mr. de Aryan:

Enclosed are a few dollars for the Joan McBride Fund. Sorry it is not more but I am also bled white with parcels, but mine do arrive which makes the sending more pleasant.

Enclosed is also a report from the Catholic Herald of London, England, about the P. O. W. Assistance Society. Maybe you'd like to reprint it in THE BROOM. This report and the personal letters I receive from the English people prove only one thing and that is: P. O. W.s are being sold for Slave Labor. Those flowering youths of Germany have made more friends with the English and French people. This was something the enemy did not measure. Give them enough rope (the Slave traders) and they will hang themselves, and that is just about to happen.

Thank you and hope that you may long carry on your work.

Sincerely yours for Christ and Country,
Mrs. G. A. E.

P. O. W. Assistance Society

LONDON, — A one-roomed cottage in a Hampshire village is the headquarters of a remarkable work of Catholic Action, the Prisoners of War Assistance Society, which is bringing hope and comfort to hundreds of the prisoners still in this country and to their families at home. It is carried on largely by two ladies.

As soon as German and Italian P. O. W.s first began to stream into Great Britain, many kind-hearted people tried to do something to relieve the monotony and hopelessness of their existence. Some, indeed, risked the penalties of the law by giving cigarettes or a friendly word to these former enemies. There was, among the charitable, a wealth of surreptitious goodwill which had little chance of expression.

SOCIETY FOUNDED

Towards the end of 1944, two ladies, a mother and her daughter, became convinced that these sporadic and often misguided efforts to carry out the Gospel precept of loving one's enemies should be canalised and directed into the ways that seemed most useful.

With a capacity for prayer as their only resource, Miss Mary Foss and her mother took up the prisoners' cause and, with Mr. Michael Huntley who had been working on behalf of distressed Italians, founded the P. O. W. Assistance Society, thus uniting little groups up and down the country which were doing for their local camps all that was allowed and sometimes more.

I recently visited what the society's imposing notepaper grandiloquently terms "The Administrative Centre" at Shalden, near Alton, in Hampshire. Here are no imposing officers with rows of steel filing cabinets. In this single timber-lined cottage room these two gallant ladies eat and sleep, store goods for P. O. W.s and carry on the growing correspondence of the society, which is now in touch with 22 counrties. Mrs. Foss is an invalid, but that does not deter her from typing in bed. They had just finished composing a letter to the Russian authorities on behalf of some particularly deserving prisoner.

When they began, with nothing more substantial than consolidated good wishes, the founders got busy. Two typewriters, bought at great personal sacrifice, were soon rattling away until the small hours of every morning. They wrote many letters to influential people in order to legalise their work on behalf of prisoners; they organised petitions pleading for relaxation of the harsh rules against fraternisation and the prisoners' continuous confinement; later, they urged their speedy release.

All this, however, is in the realm of high policy. The immediate work of the society is to relieve by all possible means the lot of the prisoners here and their families at home. They provide material help such as prayer-books and rosaries, as well as other comforts, and they send parcels to their families. The society is founded on a Catholic basis, though membership is not restricted to Catholics any more than is the assistance given. Friendship and personal contact are its notes.

Much of the work is done by correspondence. The effect of a kindly, sympathetic letter is often remarkable. Many a distressed family in Germany has taken new hope and many a prisoner has been enabled to continue to bear his captivity from the knowledge that someone cares.

A most successful branch of the work has been the tracing of prisoners' relations, many of whom have become Displaced Persons. For example, a P. O. W. wrote to Miss Foss asking if she could trace his family who lived in Sudetenland and from whom he had received no news. A friend of the society managed to trace the street, which had since been given a Czech name, and found them, a few days before they were due to be removed compulsorily to Germany.

The society maintains a list of P. O. W.s with whom they are in contact, together with the names and addresses of their relatives in Germany so that food parcels may be sent either by the society or by individuals who wish to adopt a family and take a personal interest in them. Many most moving letters of thanks have been received from prisoners and their families.

PERSONAL PROBLEMS

The number of personal problems they are asked to solve grows daily, many of them difficult and delicate, and some beyond their resources. The latter are passed on to other organisations, the Society of Friends, the International Red Cross or any other body that may be able to help.

The Society is now taking up the cause of men who wish to settle here or in America, having lost everything at home. Captives from Australia to Jamaica, from India to Kenya, owe much to the charity and hard work of this unassuming society.

Miss Foss has at last been convinced that larger premises than the little country cottage lent by kind friends, are required. An office near London is urgently needed. And so are money and offers of help. The address is the Hon. Secretary, P. O. W. A. S., Shalden, Alton, Hants. The need is great but the worth of this Christian service is inestimable.

WASHINGTON, — Here's a list that some people might want to pigeon-hole for reference. Fourteen Republican Senators voted against both the Greco-Turkish handout and the confirmation of Lillienthal. They were Bricker (Ohio), Brooks (Ill.), Buck (Del.), Bushfield (S. C.), Butler (Neb.), Dworshak (Ida.), Hawkes (N. J.), Kem (Mo.), Malone (Nev.), Moore (Okla.), Robertson (Wyo.), Wherry (Neb.), Williams (Del.), and Wilson (Iowa). It will be noticed that both Nebraska Senators are on the honor list.

Three Democratic Senators voted against both measures. They were: Byrd (Va.), McKellar (Tenn.), and O'Daniel (Texas).

The New York Times devoted about six columns to the full text of Wallace's speech in Washington the other night and about two columns more beginning on page one to the account of his meaning. If that isn't waste of good paper and an example of prejudicial journalism, what could be? The speech consisted chiefly of generalities and abstractions introduced by the first person singular pronoun I of which Wallace has an ample stock at all times.

Two formal arrangements to answer Wallace here have already been made. The Christian Nationalist Crusade has engaged the Sylvan Theatre, next to the Washington Monument, for Sunday evening, August 3rd. Gearld L. K. Smith will be the principal speaker. The American Anti-Communist Association Congressman O'Konski, President, has engaged the Watergate for a mid-July date. A number of prominent speakers are in prospect.

It will be interesting to note how much space the New York Times devotes to these occasions.

THE WIDENING OHIO SPLIT

There is an interesting story behind Truman's appointment of Rep. Robert F. Jones (R) of Ohio to a place on the FCC. Some of the details are still a mystery, but it seems to have a lot to do with the Republican split in the Ohio Congressional delegation. It is an interesting fact that whereas a majority of all Republicans in the lower house voted for the "Truman Doctrine" Greco-Turkish handout, a majority (11) of the Ohio Congressmen (including Jones) voted against it to 8 votes in support of it. The bill was sponsored almost unanimously by the notoriously internationalist Committee on Foreign Affairs. On this committee in authoritative position because of seniority and otherwise, are two Ohio members, Congresswoman Bolton of Cleveland who first came to Congress by appointment to replace her deceased husband, and John Vorys, whose aptitude for shiftiness has been strongly brought out in this new Congress.

This committee has also recently given unanimous endorsement to the scandalous "Voice of America" bill to provide fat jobs for pinks and reds to broadcast lies in the name of truth. Discussing this latest evidence of this committee's un-Americanism, Congressman Lemke (R-ND) has just said:

> "During the debate, the Committee on Foreign Affairs threatened to resign in a body. They discovered that their foreign ideologies were not in keeping with American tradition. The Committee could have rendered no greater service to the Nation, and to the world than if as a body it had resigned and gone into oblivion."

And so to get back to the story which is that the appointment of Jones, who voted against the Greco-Turkish handout, is part of a plot to get rid of him so that the Bolton-Vorys faction, which is also opposed to Senator Bricker, will, if possible, reestablish their dwindling dominance. It's one way Truman can repay his faithful Republican stooges in helping to put over his anti-American pro-foreign treasury-robbing policy.

Another reason for getting Jones out of Congress is that, as a high-ranking member of the powerful Committee on Appropriations, he is in position to do much damage to Truman's various projects.

Glutamic Acid, Brain Food?

Some day, the biochemists may be able to brew a magic concoction that will improve man's intelligence. At Columbia University's College of Physicians & Surgeons, three researchers — Drs. Frederick T. Zimmerman, Bessie B. Burgemeister and Tracy J. Putnam—have reported some interesting experiments with children who were given regular feedings of glutamic acid.

Glutamic acid, one of the amino acids that form proteins, is found in wheat, soybeans and (less plentifully) in certain other foods such as milk and meat. Its unusual property: glutamic is the only amino acid that is metabolized (i. e., burned up) by brain tissue, and it seems to have a beneficial effect on nerve activity in the brain. The Columbia researchers first tried feeding concentrated doses of glutamic acid to white rats. The rats' show of intelligence improved noticeably; they solved the standard maze problem in half their former time.

For the big experiment, the researchers chose 69 children, aged 5 to 17, including a mentally retarded group (average I. Q.: 65), and some epileptics of normal or superior intelligence (glutamic acid had previously been used for treating epilepsy). The children got heavy daily doses (average: 12 grams), usually mixed with food, because glutamic acid by itself is sour, oily and unpalatable. In too big doses, the acid made the children restless and sleepless; in doses they could tolerate, it produced a remarkable improvement in alertness, drive, ability to solve problems. At the end of a year the children's I. Q.s had risen an average of eleven points. Their mental growth (a two-year advance in mental age) was twice as fast as that of normal children.

Dr. Zimmerman and associates cautioned that there are limits to what glumatic acid can do: e. g., patients improve rapidly during the first six months but approach an I. Q. ceiling by the end of a year; if they quit the glutamic acid diet, they begin to backslide mentally. A still unanswered question: Would the treatment improve the intelligence of normal children or grownups?

Editor's Note: The best source for glutamic acid is not "extracts" thereof, but whole wheat and a good quality of soybeans. We found the best beans sold by Wm. Daglish, 277 Water Street, Santa Cruz, Calif.
